The appellant is employed in Gulf. Family Court ordered the appellant to pay Rs.1,000/- to the wife and Rs.500/- to the child as interim maintenance by Ext.P3. It was passed after hearing the advocate for the writ petitioner Husband in the presence of his Power of Attorney holder. We are of the opinion that considering the amount, no interference is required in the order passed. There is no error of jurisdiction or patent illegality resulting in injustice so as to warrant interference under Article 227 of the Constitution of India. However, it is for the petitioner to adduce further evidence before final orders are passed in the maintenance application. With the above observations this writ petition is disposed of.
